French and British Both Report Advances on the Somme, and the Repulse of Vigorous Counter Attacks by the Germans.

Turks Evacuate Bitlis and Mush as Russians Resume Offensive on Whole Asiatic Front.

Prince Eitel Friedrich, Son of Kaiser, Fighting With Troops in the Neighborhood of Guillemont.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The French gains on the Somme front in the vicinity of Maurepas yesterday were followed by a heavy German counter attack last night. The official report of today says the Germans were repulsed with heavy loss.

The German assault was delivered near Hill 121, near Maurepas.

Heavy shelling of the German lines continues in the region of Lassigny and Roye.

On the Verdun front the Germans attacked Fleury in the night, but were unsuccessful.

Official announcement was made today by the British War Office that after hard fighting the British lines had been advanced several hundred yards in the region near Delville wood.

The complete occupation of Maurepas brings the French and the English advanced lines on the Somme within two miles of Combles, the advance on which is greatly aided by this forward movement. Maurepas formed one of the principal supporting points between the Somme and the highway from Albert to Bapaume, and also was an important strategic base by reason of its situation on a plateau dominating the region toward the south.

The Germans have placed on the line against the French between Hardecourt and Clerly the first division of Bavarian reserves and the first division of the Prussian guards. This guard division is commanded in person by Prince Eitel Friedrich, second son of the German Emperor, and took part in the fighting at Maurepas. Guillemont, where the English have made progress, is being defended by the Kaiser Wilhelm II regiment of Wuertemberg.

Last night's communication said: "North of the Somme, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, we attacked German positions in the Maurepas region. After carrying in a single dash that part of the village which the enemy still occupied and adjoining trenches, we established a line 200 meters beyond on a front of about two kilometers (a mile and a quarter), stretching from the railroad north of the village to Hill 121 on the southeast. We took prisoners 200 Germans during this operation and captured a dozen machine guns."

The British report of last night said: "South of Thiepval this afternoon we made a further advance of 300 yards, capturing an enemy trench 400 yards in length. Many prisoners are being taken in this sector."

BERLIN ADMITS LOSS OF MAUREPAS
BERLIN, via London, Aug. 25.—The capture of Maurepas, on the Somme front, by the French is recorded in the official announcement of today.

SLAYS PRESS ON IN ASIA, TURKS GIVE UP BITLIS
Petrograd, by wireless to London, Aug. 25.—It is announced that the Russians have resumed their advance along the entire Asiatic front. The Turks have evacuated Bitlis.

It was announced last night that the Russians had entered Mush.

British Armed Yacht Sunk in Alexandria Gulf
LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Admiralty announces that the German claim of having sunk a patrol boat in the neighborhood of the Gulf of Alexandria doubtless refers to the British armed yacht Zaida, which was engaged in destroying petrol stores in the gulf. A Turkish report says four officers and 39 men were taken prisoner. The fate of the remaining two officers and eight men is not known and it is assumed that they are lost. The Zaida was a yacht of 108 tons and, prior to the war, was owned by the Earl of Rosebery, formerly British Premier.

"LORD" BARRINGTON CHECKS
WRAPS AT CAPITAL DANCE

"No One Basher or Happler" Than Convict, Says Society Reporter in Describing Affair at McClung Park.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 25.—"Lord" F. Seymour Barrington, bigamist and murderer, who was at one time under sentence of death for killing James McCann in St. Louis County in 1903, and whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, was present at the ball given at McClung Park last night. He was in charge of the women's wraps.

"No one was basher or happler than he," remarks the society reporter of the Capitol City News in describing the affair in this morning's issue of the paper.

McClung Park is a tract of State property, on which considerable work has been done by convicts, under Warden McClung's orders, and which was therefore named after the Warden. A dance is given in the pavilion every Thursday night, and a free concert in the park, convicts furnishing the music.

"BATTLE" BELIEVED TO BE NEAR IN BIG WAR GAME
Admiral in Charge of Fleet Defending Atlantic Coast Calls for Torpedoes and Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Movements of the two fleets in the naval war game are not disclosed today, but the positions of the scouts indicate a battle cannot be long delayed.

Navy officials were inclined today to believe that the intercepted message picked up yesterday saying the invading transports had been sighted, was a decoy sent out by Admiral Helm, commanding the defenders, in order of misleading Admiral Mayo.

Admiral Helm also has called for ammunition, including torpedoes, and supplies to be delivered within a given time from the various stations and depots along the Atlantic coast.

At the conclusion of the war game the Atlantic fleet will go to the southern drill grounds for the regular September target practice. The reserve ships composing the defenders will accompany the active fleet in order that the naval militia and volunteers may watch the Atlantic fleet at battle practice. Rear Admiral Benson, chief of operations, said today that beginning next spring all reserve ships would be sent regularly to participate in target practice.

FIRE CHIEF WRITES A PLAY
It Will Be Produced With Firemen as the Actors.

Fire Chief Henderson has written a play depicting the life of a fireman, to be produced, with firemen as actors, as the fire fighting show to be given Sept. 18 to 25 at McMane Park, Grand avenue and Meramec street.

The first scene will be a burlesque examination before the Efficiency Board. Another feature of the show will be a demonstration of the intelligence of the fire horses. The animals will be scattered about the park and on the sounding of an alarm will go to their own engines and take their correct positions. The purpose of the show is to increase the firemen's pension fund.

DOCTOR FLIES TO SEE PATIENT

Hydroaeroplane Carries Long Island Physician and Wife Across Bay.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—To reach a patient on Fire Island, Dr. George S. King of Bay Shore, L. I., used a Curtiss flying boat Wednesday to hurry across Long Island Sound. The flying boat was available, Dr. King took his wife along. The six-and-a-half mile trip consumed only seven minutes. The operator of the hydroaeroplane landed near shore and the passengers went to land.

While the doctor was attending to his patient, Mrs. King took a trip of her own in the air, circling Fire Island light several hundred feet in the air and flying out over the ocean.

SANE FOURTH CAMPAIGN WINS

Only 30 Deaths in 1916 as Against 400 in 1905.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Results of the campaign that has been waged for many years for a sane Fourth of July are shown in figures of the American Medical Association for the 1916 celebration. No cases of deaths by exploding fireworks were reported, and only 30 deaths took place, as compared with 400 in 1905. One was killed and 400 injured in Chicago, as against 16 killed and 241 injured in 1907.

Six Airships in Latest Attack—One Reaches the Outskirts of London.

100 BOMBS ARE DROPPED

Railway Station and Houses Are Damaged—British Flyers Go in Pursuit.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Eight persons were killed and 36 injured in the Zeppelin raid last night. It was announced officially today. One hundred bombs were dropped. One Zeppelin reached the outskirts of London.

The statement follows: "As far as has been ascertained, 40 bombs were dropped. Most of these fell either on small property or in the open and an electric power station was slightly damaged and engineering works were somewhat damaged by fire. Several small fires occurred, all of which were promptly extinguished by the London fire brigade, several persons being rescued from positions of danger by firemen.

"Fire was opened on this airship, which immediately altered its course. It is possible that the first airship was followed by a second raider, but this can not, for the present, be verified.

"Some of our airmen went up in pursuit and one airmen succeeded in firing at the raider at close range."

Details of the raid, by hostile airships which crossed the east and southeast coasts of England between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning, are disclosed by the official statement of the War Office.

The announcement says: "Six hostile airships raided the east and southeast coasts of England last night at intervals between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning. One airship made her way westward well inland. The remainder of the fleet carried out short inroads over the coast. Several bombs are reported to have been directed at ships at sea.

In one locality a railway station and some houses were damaged and horses were killed. At another point two houses were wrecked.

"Anti-aircraft guns came into action at certain points, both on land and from ships at sea. Some of our aircraft went up in pursuit and one airmen succeeded in firing on a raider at close range, but he eluded her pursuers in the clouds."

Three persons were killed and several injured by a Zeppelin which dropped a large number of bombs in the neighborhood of a town on the southeast coast of England, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. Several houses were damaged. At another place on the southeast coast many bombs were dropped. One fell into a railway station yard, while another bomb completely wrecked a dairy nearby.

A Central News dispatch says there was great excitement in a town on the Thames estuary at 1 o'clock this morning when a new Zeppelin was sighted. The raider, but it could be heard approaching from the coast. After hovering over the town for some time it passed toward the west. Shortly afterwards a series of cannon explosions, followed by cannonading, shook buildings and lighted the sky. The people thronged the streets, calmly watching these operations, which lasted half an hour.

J. T. DAVIS EXPECTS TO BE PRESIDENT OF POLICE BOARD

McPheeters' Successor Says He Knows Nothing About the Workings of the Department.

T. S. MAFFITT RESIGNS

Gov. Major Appoints Michael C. H. Arendes, Drug-Salesman, to Fill Vacancy.

Joseph T. Davis, who was appointed a Police Commissioner yesterday by Gov. Major to succeed Samuel B. McPheeters, president of the Police Board removed by Lieutenant-Governor Painter a week ago, said this morning that he expected to be president of the board.

Davis frankly said he knew nothing of the workings of the department, and did not even know how the president would be selected. He said he did not know whether there would be any changes in officials, and would not work until he had had an opportunity to investigate conditions in the department.

Besides approving Lieutenant-Governor Painter's action in removing President McPheeters, the Governor accepted the resignation of Commissioner Thomas S. Maffitt and appointed Michael C. H. Arendes, a drug salesman in his place.

Has Been Office Seeker.
Davis is 35 years old and since becoming of age has been a persistent office seeker. He was reared in railroad Franklin County, and was a railroad telegrapher in his youth. He was admitted to the bar in Franklin County in 1904 when 21 years old, and the same year became a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of the county. He was defeated and in January, 1906, came to St. Louis.

For a few weeks he had an office in the same suite with Jephtha and Alphonse Howe, and then took offices with Edgar P. Runkle.

In 1912 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney-General. He was defeated and immediately resumed his campaign for the nomination in 1916. He was defeated this year by Frank W. McAllister of Paris. Davis resides at 438 Page boulevard.

He said this morning that he had no plans to announce.

Davis Refused the Office.
"I at first refused the office," he said, "but when the Governor insisted I agreed to accept it. I have figured out that no matter what I do as Police Commissioner I shall be unable to satisfy everybody. Therefore I have decided to select a man whom I think is the right thing to do and not pay any attention to criticism."

"I don't know whether St. Louis has a good or a poor Police Department. I don't know how the President of the board is selected. I don't even know whether I am expected to attend today's meeting of the board."

"I shall make a thorough inquiry into all details of the department to inform myself whether any changes are necessary. I decided that the department can be made more efficient by changes I shall not hesitate to use my influence to bring about such changes."

"I believe that the public is interested only in having an efficient Police Department, and I will be my aim to bring about the greatest efficiency."

Young a Republican.
Davis was asked whether Chief Young would retain his office. The Chief's removal long has been sought by St. Louis Democrats, on the ground that he is a Republican. Davis said he could not say whether any change would be made in the head of the department.

It was rumored in a cafe, where the Governor and the new Police Commissioners dined last night, that one of the first acts of the reorganized board would be to remove Chief Young. Some politicians expected that Capt. Martin O'Brien would become Chief.

In announcing the dismissal of McPheeters, the Governor made a formal statement, in which he said that as a further evidence of the high esteem in which he holds him as citizen and lawyer, he expected to tender to Mr. McPheeters, Oct. 1, an appointment to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Albert P. Norton as a member of the Board of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

Term Lasts Until January.
This appointment to a $600-a-year job will last only three months, for Judge Norton's term expires Jan. 1. McPheeters then will be succeeded by a Judge to be chosen at the November election, the candidates being William Dee Becker, Republican, and Davis Biggs, Democrat.

It had been expected that Gov. Major would appoint Biggs to fill out Judge Norton's unexpired term.

Arendes, who takes Maffitt's place, lives at 223 Oregon avenue. At the recent primaries Arendes was an active supporter of John M. Atkinson, who was chosen for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, but was defeated by Frederick Gardner.

Gov. Major, accompanied by Excise Commissioner Ramsey, departed for Chicago on a midnight train. He said he would be out of the State another week. Painter is again Acting Governor.

$250,000,000 BRITISH LOAN
SUBSCRIBED IN 48 HOURS

New York Purchases Emphasize Fact That U. S. Is for First Time a Creditor Nation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A new record in the sale of the British Government's 5 per cent notes. They were practically all sold at the close of business yesterday. The fact that $250,000,000 of foreign securities had been marketed here within 48 hours was emphasized by bankers given as showing that the United States is for the first time in history a creditor among the nations of the world.

The syndicate which underwrote the British issue was formed to run until Oct. 1, unless terminated earlier. J. P. Morgan & Co. sent out to the members last night a notification that the subscription books would close at 12 o'clock.

DEUTSCHLAND IS BEING MADE READY FOR NEW TRIP TO U. S.

Cargo Being Received and Crew Expresses Willingness to Repeat Trip.

BERLIN, by wireless to Sayville, Aug. 25.—Preparations for another voyage of the submarine Deutschland to the United States are well under way. Freight is being received for this trip. The amount of cargo now ready is larger than had been expected. The Overseas News Agency says. All the members of the crew have expressed readiness to sign for the next voyage.

Most of the buildings here are decked with flags in celebration of the return of the Deutschland. Capt. Koenig and his crew have been feted as heroes.

The press gives liberal praise to the fair and neutral conduct of the United States Government.

Capt. Koenig personally expressed great satisfaction at the treatment accorded him by the American Government.

The semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung points out that ships of the Deutschland and Bremen type will render valuable service during the war, but their value will be slight on the return of peace.

Capt. Koenig and his crew will be further evidence of the high esteem in which he holds him as citizen and lawyer, he expected to tender to Mr. McPheeters, Oct. 1, an appointment to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Albert P. Norton as a member of the Board of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

CONGRESS LEADERS PLAN TO ADJOURN IN A WEEK

Senators Prepare to Pass General Deficiency Bill When It Comes From House on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Administration leaders in Congress are today planning adjournment next Friday or Saturday.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee said he believed it could be done unless unforeseen developments arose.

Democratic Senate leaders announced their intention to pass the general deficiency bill when it comes from the House next Tuesday, then pass the revenue bill and adjourn.

"I believe efforts will be made to bring up the immigration bill and the corrupt practices bill," said Senator Simmons. "But I think Congress will adjourn nevertheless as soon as it is discovered that both those measures will provoke protracted debate."

Republican and Democratic leaders called absentees to have a quorum in the House Tuesday to dispose of the remaining business. It was stated by Democratic leaders that if a quorum was not available by Tuesday adjournment would not be likely until the following week.

TRAINMEN BEFORE
PRESIDENT TODAY;
RAIL HEADS NEXT

Cabinet Meeting Held Up for Talk With Brotherhood Men, Presumably on Legislation to Avert Situations Like Present One.

"Situation Is Unchanged," Men Say After Meeting—Managers at White House This Afternoon.

New Difficulties Arise and Problem of Rate Increase in Return for 8-Hour Day Is Unsolved.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Wilson summoned representatives of the employers and employees involved in the threatened railroad strike to the White House today for conferences to discuss proposals which have developed out of his original plan of settlement. Representatives of the employees went to the White House at 10:30 o'clock and the representatives of the employers will see the President later.

The four brotherhood heads remained with the President an hour and a half, but would make no statement on departing. The President kept the Cabinet waiting for an hour to continue his conference with the railroad men.

It was understood the President wanted to get the views of the men on legislation under consideration to prevent such a controversy in the future.

allowed, was the probable cause of hostility of labor leaders to the plan.

Continued hostility of many presidents to the eight-hour day, under any circumstances, complicates the situation further.

It has become known that in their conferences with President Wilson the executives pointed out that since it is his view that the eight-hour day is approved by a majority, apparently it must be extended to other railroad employees and to those in other lines of endeavor. An estimate of the ultimate cost was given to the President.

President Wilson is said to have taken the position that the freight rate increase will be forthcoming because the weight of public opinion will back the eight-hour day, and will also back any plan to give the railroads the revenue to provide for the added expense.

Bank Opposes President's Plan.

B. F. Rush of St. Louis, receiver of the Missouri Pacific system, in a statement of his position in the controversy, says President Wilson's plan calls for vastly more concessions by the carriers than by the employees. He declares the leaders of the brotherhoods, as he sees it, occupy a position as "autocrats" for they have refused to submit to arbitration.

"The railroads, by conceding the adoption of the eight-hour day," says Rush, "would of necessity submit to an increased expense of approximately $60,000,000 a year, and the employees would stand a further chance of gaining other concessions through any subsequent award that might be made. And, further than this, the granting of the eight-hour basic day by the railroads would open up a broad gap between the pay of the train employees and that of other workers, and, in justice to all, the railroads would be confronted by the plea of other railroad employees who would have to be considered."

FRENCH SOLDIERS AT FRONT NOT ALLOWED TO WEAR BEARDS

Order Brings Forth Ironical and Humorous Discussion in French Newspapers.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The beard of the French soldier is doomed in an army order directing that the men at the front shave all but mustaches. The order brought an outburst of humorous and ironical discussion in the French newspapers, to which some of the most famous French artists, philosophers and literary men have contributed.

Jean Richepin, the dramatist, writing in Le Figaro, says:

"The beard has gone, but what is the difference to us? In place of it is courage that grows. Let the beard fall and French courage grows."

Edmond Rostand celebrates the beard in a verse as a symbol of "all beauty of all France, a soul, a jewel, a torch, a prod."

Auguste Rodin, the sculptor, says: "Men without beards, women without sex, statues without souls, bodies without arms, beauty without weakness, that is my opinion."

Gen. Pierre Cherfillis, reasoning technically, excuses the measure because "the beard of a trooper weighs on an average 60 grammes. With 2,000,000 men at the front this brings the aggregate average 60 grammes. With 2,000,000 men, the staff should think of relieving the army of this considerable and useless weight. It was reasonable in creating heavy material to make in compensation light infantry."

COMMITTEEMAN PEEVISH OVER APPOINTMENT OF FIREMEN

Nat Goldstein Protests Over Selection of 5 Men Over Man He Wanted to Get Job For.

The appointment yesterday by Fire Chief Henderson of five men from a list of nine eligibles sent him by the Efficiency Board to jobs in the department resulted in a protest from Nat Goldstein, Republican city committeeman, who was interested in August F. Wheeler, 2564 A. St. Louis avenue, who, although ranked third on the board list, failed of appointment.

Chief Henderson explained that Netzer failed because the Chief had required all of the men to strip for an examination and the five who appeared most physically fit were selected. The Chief said Goldstein's duties of firemen are too important to be influenced by political interests.

Goldstein complained that on June 1, when the department needed one man, the name of just one was certified to the Chief, and that again on June 20, when there was three vacancies, the names of only three men were certified.

Map Showing the Old and New Drive at Forest Park Entrance

NEW ENTRANCE AT FOREST PARK TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC

Union Boulevard Extension Expected to Diminish Crush of Vehicles.

A new entrance to Forest Park, which it is hoped will relieve traffic conditions at the Lindell entrance, is to be constructed at Union boulevard, under plans approved by the Board of Public Service.

In place of the present roadway, which is 26 feet wide at its narrowest point, the new drive will have a uniform width of 78 feet. It will be 660 feet long, and will lead south from Lindell boulevard, at the Union entrance, driving west to a connection with Grand drive.

On either side of the drive will be a 10-foot sidewalk. There will be two planting spaces, one 220 feet long and 26 feet wide, between Lindell boulevard and Sylvan Lake road, and the other 25 feet long, running north from the connection with Grand drive. These will divide the roadway at either end, and will have the effect of dividing it for its whole length. At the connection with Lindell, the west half of the road will be the entrance to the park and the east half the exit. The parking of the center spaces will be with bright colored plants, like those in the parked space at the Locust-Lindell cutoff.

Persons who went to the scene of the accident immediately said they did not see anyone near the wrecked car. It appeared to have stalled on the track or to have been abandoned.

ST. THOMAS WANTS SALE OF ISLANDS EXPEDITED

Legislature Sends Resolution to Denmark Telling of Need for Immediate Action.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Aug. 25.—The legislature adopted yesterday the Danish Legislature urged upon the Danish Government the expediting of the negotiations for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. The transfer of the islands to the United States as speedily as possible to end the uncertainty of the present situation is "earnestly requested" of the mother country. The resolutions follow:

"As constantly recurring sale negotiations paralyze all enterprises in St. Thomas and great depression with a public deficit and private misery has already been caused by the war and by disappointment from the Panama Canal, the mother country is earnestly requested to hasten the present negotiations and implore not to reject the sale unless the entire nation demands it and be willing to take the consequences afterward."

BARKER HOLDS STATE CAN'T PAY EMPLOYEES IN MILITIA

Attorney-General's Ruling Cuts Off Office Salaries of Three Men on Border.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 25.—Attorney-General Barker, in an opinion today to State Auditor Gordon, held that State employees who are serving in the Missouri National Guard by Texas cannot legally be paid their salaries as State employees when out of the State and not doing the work of the State jobs they hold.

The men affected by the ruling are A. E. Patterson, chief counsel of the Public Service Commission, whose salary is $4,500 a year; A. Linxwiler, a $1,800 employee of the Adjutant-General's office, and C. C. Earp, an $1,800 clerk in the Auditor's office. Patterson is a First Lieutenant in the guard, and Earp and Linxwiler are Captains.

Under instructions from Gov. Major the three men were paid their State salaries for June and July, but under the Attorney-General's opinion they will receive no salary for August or future months.

BRITISH PUBLISH NOTES ON SWEDEN'S SEIZURE OF MAILS

Correspondence Indicates That Relations Between Two Countries Were Near Break.

MATTER NOT YET ENDED

England Objected to Sweden Holding Parcels to Russia, but Captured Swedish Mail.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Great Britain, following the lead of Sweden, has made public the entire correspondence with Sweden concerning British seizures of the Swedish parcel post with the U. S. and Swedish retaliation in stopping all British parcels in transit to Russia.

The correspondence discloses that the situation has not been satisfactory to either side. Some notes taken with language so sharp as to indicate that the relations of the two countries at one time approached the breaking point.

As a result of the negotiations Sweden recently released 40,000 parcels to Russia under agreement with the Government to submit the matter to arbitration after the war. The British Government demanded that there be no more interference with traffic across Sweden to Russia, but Sweden refused to promise, saying it was not included in the original negotiations, whereupon the British Government withdrew its offer to arbitrate.

Sweden's Final Offer.

The final offer of Sweden was that she would do nothing in retaliation for anything done by Great Britain prior to July 4 of this year, which was coupled with the hope that this conciliatory attitude would move Great Britain to cease interference with Swedish mails, thus saving Sweden from the necessity of resorting to retaliation in the future.

In this last note Sweden threatened to make the entire correspondence public should the offer be rejected. Great Britain in her last note, signed by Foreign Secretary Lloyd, said the British offer to arbitrate would remain open only on condition that Sweden should continue to forward parcels between England and Sweden and elsewhere and otherwise carry out the post office agreement entered into by the two countries in 1904.

Sweden Has Not Repplied.

Viscount Grey asked in his final answer, "I beg to say, Sweden would cease to interfere with this traffic, but the only reply has been the publication at Stockholm of the correspondence."

The correspondence began last December with the first detention at Kirkwall of mails between Sweden and the United States. Count Wrangel, Swedish Minister in London, protested and announced the stoppage of the Russian parcel post until Great Britain should give a guarantee against repetition of the Kirkwall seizures, which he denounced as "contrary to international law."

This announcement was made after the Swedish Minister had been informed that part of the mail consisted of 105 bags of rubber from New York, which the British believed were destined for Germany.

Foreign Minister Grey wrote that the ships were visited and searched in accordance with established belligerent rights, and that the first seizure showed one-third of the parcels mail consisted of absolute contraband. He said that he was convinced Sweden would regard the British action as perfectly correct while the detention of the Russian mail by Sweden was "an indefensible procedure" and that the mail must be released.

Sweden Makes Protest.

Receiving no reply, Foreign Minister Grey wrote three weeks later threatening a similar embargo on all Swedish mails. Sweden replied denying that the rules of recognized blockade were applicable to the British mail seizures. Protesting anew, Count Wrangel wrote that "the King's Government are pleased to believe that the Swedish Government will not act on the basis of the present day, will be grateful to Sweden that she has not thought it right to become a party to the present day, and the brushing aside of concluded treaties and the rules of international law which may at a later date regain their value for them."

Foreign Minister Grey replied that this charge was "unusual in diplomatic documents and on behalf of his Majesty's Government I must repudiate it in the strongest and most categorical manner as altogether unwarranted."

Grey Defies Seizures.

The Foreign Minister defended the seizures as justified under the doctrine of continuous voyage. He said while absolutely confident all claimants would receive justice in British prize courts, he nevertheless was glad to listen to representations in individual settlement by arbitration after the war.

This proposition ultimately was accepted, only to be upset, as already indicated.

And now both Sweden and Great Britain threaten extensive actions for damages for all seizures. Meantime virtually all the parcel post from Great Britain and Russia is being routed by direct steamers.

BANK DEPOSITS SHOW S. E. BRONSON IS $29,576 SHORT

State Senator's Books of Ozark Building and Loan Association, However, Balance.

HE IS UNDER BOND

Official Denies Any Discrepancy, and Will Have Experts Examine the Accounts.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 25.—The method by which State examiners have discovered an alleged shortage of $29,576 in the accounts of State Senator Solomon E. Bronson of Ozark, Mo., was explained to a Post-Dispatch reporter here today by Morris G. Gordon, State Supervisor of Buildings and Loans.

Sensor Bronson, since 1898, has been secretary of the Finley Building and Loan Association of Ozark. Gordon said that examiners in going over his accounts, found that his total receipts since 1908 had been $178,740.01, and that his own records of his bank deposits showed that he had deposited that much money in the bank during that time. Thus Bronson's office records of receipts and bank deposits balanced.

Bank Record Different.

The examiners, however, went to the bank to check up the deposits made by Senator Bronson in behalf of the Finley Building and Loan Association. The bank records, the examiners reported to Gordon, showed that Senator Bronson had only deposited $149,172.79 since 1908. Thus the examiners found a discrepancy of $29,576.22 between the bank's records of Bronson's deposits and Bronson's office record of receipts and deposits.

The first indication of any discrepancy, Gordon said, was found by the examiners when they found that Bronson's disbursements to association members were less than his receipts. Receipts given to association members by Bronson were called in, but the examiners found they tallied with Bronson's set of office records. Following their usual custom, Gordon said, the examiners then went to the bank to examine the bank's record of Bronson's deposits.

Gordon made public Bronson's statement of annual receipts, since 1908, and the examiner's report of the bank's records of annual deposits made by Bronson. The statement also showed the annual discrepancy. The table, which does not include the odd cents for each year, follows:

YEAR.	Receipts.	Deposits.	Discrepancy.
1908.....	$ 6,891	$4,896	$1,995
1909.....	14,893	12,993	1,900
1910.....	3,994	3,899	95
1911.....	9,992	8,775	1,217
1912.....	10,517	12,993	1,628
1913.....	12,013	9,497	2,515
1914.....	11,478	8,554	2,924
1915.....	17,175	13,777	3,398
1916.....	15,786	13,132	2,654
1917.....	18,864	16,583	2,281
1918.....	15,687	13,374	2,313
1919.....	12,079	10,608	1,471
1920.....	13,367	10,890	2,477
1921.....	7,638	6,335	1,303
Totals.....	$178,740	$149,172	$29,576

Gordon Found Shortage.

The audit of the association's accounts was made several days ago by examiners W. T. Bigbee and William O. Howe, who summoned Gordon to Ozark when the alleged discrepancy was found. Gordon returned here from Ozark last night and made public the results of the audit.

Gordon said that Senator Bronson has resigned as secretary of the loan association, and that he had said that his accounts are short. Bronson has requested that another audit be made by expert accountants who are to be chosen by Bronson and approved by Gordon. This plan was agreed to, and the second audit will start next week.

Bronson, according to Gordon, has stated that if his accounts are short they are adequately protected by bonds which he has furnished and that a deficiency of funds will be replaced by him.

Bronson is a lawyer. He was elected to the State Senate in 1912, and in the primary this month was renominated for the Senate by Republicans, without opposition, receiving 11,734 votes. The Democrats made no nomination, because of the big Republican majority in the counties comprising Bronson's senatorial district and because of Bronson's popularity in his district. His re-election to the State Senate, at the November election, was thus assured.

Gordon said that the last audit of Bronson's books was made in 1912 under the supervision of S. T. Graham, then State Supervisor of Buildings and Loans. No discrepancy was found at that time. All previous records of the audits of Bronson's accounts, Gordon said, were burned in the State Capitol fire in 1911.

Bronson Says If There Is Any Shortage It Will Be Replaced by Him.

Sensor Bronson, talking over long-distance telephone from Ozark, this afternoon, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that there were many transactions in the association which did not go through the bank. He claimed credit, he said, for transferred loans and matured loans that do not appear as cash items.

He said he thought the State examiners were honestly mistaken in their findings, and that a new audit, started this afternoon, would show that his accounts were correct. "If there is any shortage," he said, "it will be repaid to the association."

CANNON THE DONAH OF TARIFF REVOLT, GALLINGER SAYS

Insurgent Republicans Heaped Blame for Dissatisfaction Upon Him, Senator Says.

REVIEWS FIGHT OF 1912

Gronna, in Reply, Declares Movement Was Entirely Against House Procedure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Senator Gallinger, Republican leader, and one of "the old guard," told the Senate today during debate on the revenue bill that former Speaker Cannon was "the Jonah" upon whom the insurgent wing of the Republicans heaped blame for their complaint against the Dingley tariff, and that the late Senator Aldrich was chosen by them "as his confederate for attack and deflection."

The Republican leader defended both Representative Cannon and Senator Aldrich.

As far back as 1896, he declared, certain politicians began to plant the seed of discontent to break down the protective tariff policy of the Republican party and to discredit the acknowledged leaders of that policy.

"Men who called themselves Republicans," he said, "gave currency to the 'startling and false' theory that the increased cost of living was due to excessive rates provided by the Dingley tariff."

So Far Did This Disaffection Go.

"So far did this disaffection go," said Senator Gallinger, "that certain Republicans began to disclaim responsibility for what they called the radical provisions of the Dingley law, and began looking about for a Jonah upon whom they might heap the burden of blame and visit the penalties attaching thereby. These men, with the active assistance of these Democrats, selected for this sacrifice a man who had served this country in the House of Representatives 30 years, and at all times with more than ordinary honor and distinction, and who in that position had consistently, continuously and honorably advocated the protective tariff system as the one sure and logical means for the perpetuation of an industrial system which never has had a parallel in the history of the world. This man, who had so earnestly and ably, so long and successfully defended the best interests of our country and whom no greater patriot nor more faithful servant has ever been in the public service was Joseph Gurney Cannon."

"They declared that 'Cannonism must go,' and this cry was echoed all over the land. The chorus of the day was 'Cannonism must go.' This man, Nelson W. Aldrich, was chosen for attack and defamation. His clear view enabled him to penetrate the beyond, and he was able to render service of such value to the nation that few of us can even now realize the worth of his services to the country."

Sensor Gronna of North Dakota, one of the Progressive Republicans, a former member of the House, made reply.

"The revolt of the Progressive Republicans in the House," said Senator Gronna, "had nothing whatever to do with the tariff. It was against the policy pursued by a preceding office and to give every member of that body a chance to be heard."

Cause for Revolt.

"There was demand and those stand-patters who favored unholy high tariff rates, there would have been no revolt in the Republican party. These Progressive Republicans are Republicans from the standpoint of protection as much as the Senator from New Hampshire. We did not revolt, as the Senator from New Hampshire inferred, against the policy of protection."

"When ultra-Republican Senators proposed to grind down the farmers, the country with free trade in agricultural products, the Progressive Republicans revolted against it. It was the 'old guard' who sought to impose that free trade."

Asked by Senator Simmons (Dem.) if the Progressive Republicans stood by the Republican platform of 1912, Senator Gronna said they were willing to stand by the platform, but "that leaders of our party misconstrued that platform."

"There was demand and justly so, from all over the country, for a reduction in tariff schedules," said he.

HERE IS LIKENESS OF A FISHMOTH

STRANGE PEST ON NORTH SIDE IS A FISHMOTH

Bug That Puzzled Policeman and Several Women Is Identified.

The strange bug that has been pestering inhabitants of the North Side was identified yesterday as the fish moth by A. E. Achard of an exterminator company. The insect is not a moth and doesn't look like a fish, but is so named because of its covering of minute scales and the common custom of calling most household pests moths.

The animal does not, Achard said, sting like a cricket, nor does it bite or sting. However, he did not attempt to deny the creature's goat-like appetite. It feeds on paper, books, starched clothes and occasionally stored foods. Achard does not believe that the fish moth eats tin cans, as a Police Sergeant set forth in a written report.

The insect's fondness for starch and paste makes it serious pest to libraries, where it frequently eats the binding and lettering off of books to get at the paste beneath. Similarly it damages card labels in museums. It will also eat any starched clothing, linen or curtains, and sometimes causes wall paper to peel off by feeding on the starch paste.

The fish moth moves rapidly and makes active efforts to conceal itself. On account of its always shunning the light it is not often seen. It is found in old houses, where the atmosphere is damp and infests walls and crevices in buildings. It curiously prefers warm places such as ovens and furnaces and fireplaces and crawls rapidly over hot bricks and metal without showing any signs of the high temperature.

The fish moth, Achard says, is similar in structure and habits to the cockroach. It may be exterminated by boiled starch paste poisoned with arsenic.

The recent heavy rains, followed by hot weather, have made an ideal season for bugs. The fish moth is not confined to the North Side, according to Achard, but is common to all parts of the city. It is not a new species, having been known since 1865.

HALF OF CATLIN'S ESTATE TO WIDOW, HALF TO CHILDREN

Will Filed for Probate—Two Sons and Daughter to Share in Property.

The will of Daniel Catlin, millionaire capitalist, who died Saturday at his summer home at Dublin, N. H., was filed for probate this morning by his son, Theron E. Catlin. He bequeathed one-half his estate to Mrs. Catlin and half to his three children, Theron, Daniel K. Catlin and Mrs. Fred W. Allen.

The will provides that the old Catlin home at 21 Vandewater place and the summer home in New Hampshire and one-half of the remainder of the property shall go to Mrs. Catlin. All personal property in the two homes also goes to her.

Catlin directed that the heirs preserve undivided all the real estate for five years, and recommends that corporation be formed by the heirs to handle the real estate.

The will was written March 31, 1911, and was witnessed by J. W. Allison, Robert H. Keiser and T. L. Ziegler. The two sons were made executors without bond.

Theron E. Catlin said he would not estimate the value of the estate.

Friends of Catlin at the time of his death said that, in their opinion, his estate was valued at more than $5,000,000. In 1915 he returned for assessment $2,401,186.

The Catlin home, at 21 Vandewater place, mentioned in the will recently, was sold. A new home at 51 Westmoreland place is nearly finished.

NEW YORK HAS ANOTHER REPORT OF BREMEN'S CAPTURE

British Ship Officer Quoted as Saying Submarine Was Caught in Straits of Dover.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The New York City News Association, which gathers news for New York newspapers, quotes an officer of the British merchant marine, who arrived here today aboard the White Star steamship Baltic, as authority for the statement that the German submarine Bremen has been captured by the British and 33 of her crew of 35 made prisoners. The Bremen, captured in the Straits of Dover in a steel net, on Aug. 2. Two members of her crew lost their lives.

The Bremen, it was said, while enmeshed in the net, was sighted by a British patrol boat, her stern under water and her bow high above the surface. After endeavoring for a time to extricate the wreck, the patrol boat steamed away for Dover with her prisoners.

According to the officer quoted, the British Government has maintained silence in regard to the capture as another German transatlantic submarine, the Amerika, was said to be on the way here and it was hoped to capture her also.

CROWD IN MORMON TABERNACLE HEARS SPEECH BY HUGHES

Democratic Candidates and Leaders in Utah Meet the Republican Nominee.

FAVORS MERIT SYSTEM

Pledges Extension of Civil Service and Gives His Ideas of Preparedness.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 25.—An audience that crowded the great Mormon Tabernacle heard Charles E. Hughes when he spoke here last night. He assailed the administration for "specious disregard" of the civil service regulations in making appointments, declared that he stood for faithful observance of the civil service and asserted that he would extend its sphere, if elected.

Mr. Hughes spoke with the Democratic candidate for Governor on the platform, and with other opportunity to address party officials, specially invited guests, in the hall.

"We have had under this administration," the nominee said, "law after law enacted providing for the creation of thousands of places with provisions to the effect that it should not be necessary in making the appointments to conform to the merit system, which is another way of saying they need not be made under civil service regulations. Spurious excuses were made. They deceived no one. Every one of those clauses designed to make inapplicable the merit system was simply designed to afford an opportunity to provide partisan and political spoils."

Would Extend Merit System. "We must seriously guard against that. So far as I am concerned, the operation of the merit system will be recognized and extended in order that we increase the standard of public work, that we elevate those standards, that we may have efficiency in the public service."

Mr. Hughes referred to "claims of all candidates that they want efficiency of government."

"I should not expect you would think I say worthy of special attention," he said, "were it not that I have devoted four of the best years of my life, regardless of politics, in maintaining those ideals in the Empire State."

The nominee referred to the administration's policy toward the Philippines. "We have taken too much about our privileges," he said, "it is now time to talk about our obligations. If our friends on the other side had had a proper sense of the obligations of this Government they never would have proposed that we settle out of the Philippines and leave them to take care of themselves."

"I propose that we shall have in the administration of the Philippines the highest standard of efficiency and fair dealing."

Fundamentally the question is one of national honor. We took the Philippines under a sacred obligation. It is our duty to discharge that obligation and I propose that we hold the flag of the United States before the world as a flag which never betrays a trust."

Views on Preparedness. Of preparedness Mr. Hughes said: "We are not militaristic. Why, you couldn't get up a militaristic spirit in this country if you sent out a team of organizers to do so. We propose, however, to be ready for any emergency which may have our words taken at their full value."

The nominee repeated his assertion that the regular army should be large and efficient enough to do border duty such as is now being done by the national guard and the navy adequate to protect our coast.

The nominee repeated his condemnation of "pork barrel" legislation.

"The other day I pointed the finger of scorn at the pork barrels passed under this administration," he said, and immediately there was a flutter of the birds in the halls of Congress."

The nominee departed at midnight for Cheyenne.

Earlier Speech at Ogden. At Ogden during the day Mr. Hughes spoke on what he termed the necessity of national preparation for commercial competition with Europe after the war.

The nominee repeated his declaration that this could be done only under a protective tariff. He reiterated his statement that he would do all he could, if elected, to prevent abuses under a protective tariff. He declared that the time had come to protect American business and achievement, not to cripple or destroy it.

"Show me any way by which legitimate business can succeed," Mr. Hughes said, "and I am going to do my utmost to make it succeed."

SENATOR OWEN WILL PUSH HIS CORRUPT PRACTICES BILL

Says Republicans Are Trying to Block Its Passage Until After Election.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Republican Senators were accused yesterday by Senator Owen, Democrat, of a deliberate effort to prevent action before the November election on his corrupt practices bill, which would put strict limitations on campaign contributions. Then the Oklahoma Senator announced that he would make an insistent fight to bring up the measure at this session of Congress regardless of consequences to early adjournment plans.

He declared the existing campaign contributions law was a fraud upon the American people, charged that the so-called Lumber Trust had sent $40,000 into Oklahoma to defeat his re-election because he voted to deny William Lorimer a seat in the Senate, and precipitated a lively debate in which Republican and Democratic Senators bitterly accused each other of planning to buy the approaching election.

Owen said he would make a motion to take up the bill as soon as the revenue bill was passed.

GERMAN FIRMS HAVE REPLACED EVERY SHIP SUNK IN WAR

Steamship Concerns Ready to Meet Competition Immediately After The War.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 25.—Germany is ready for the competition on the sea which will take place after the war, declares Philip Heineken, director of the North German-Lloyd Steamship Line, in an interview in the Politiken today. Every ship destroyed during the war has been replaced, he said, and the North German-Lloyd Line has built four new passenger steamers named the Zeppelin, Hindenburg, Columbus and Munchen, respectively. The company, he added, also intended to build a large number of 4000-ton steamers of a uniform type, in order that when the war is over, to enable it to send out a fleet of steamers with great rapidity.

The submarines Deutschland and Bremen, said Herr Heineken, would not be used after the war, as the cost of their operation is too great.

One other man was slightly injured but did not require treatment.

BOY BELIEVED MEN IN CAFE WERE MIMICKING HIM

New Version of Attack on Alexander Carver Indicates He Was Not Protecting Woman From Annoyance.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—There was a new version today of the scene created by Bernard P. Bogy of St. Louis when he smashed young Alexander Carver of Bronxville over the head with his fist in the Gramatan Park Wednesday night, according to which Bogy was not protecting Mrs. Bonten McMillan from annoyance, but was resenting what seemed to him to be mimicry of his style of telling an English story.

Thomas Foster, brother of Mrs. McMillan, denies emphatically that Bogy's heroics were in Mrs. McMillan's behalf. He says Mrs. McMillan was sitting with her back to young Carver and Bernard Bogy Jr., verifies this.

It appears that Bogy was telling one of his English stories and was gesticulating and using an exaggerated English accent. Carver and his friends at the next table were talking and laughing and Bogy thought they were making fun of him. Suddenly he sprang to his feet and struck Carver on the back of the head. Foster and Mrs. McMillan, who had just made Bogy's acquaintance at the hotel, immediately left the grill. Mrs. McMillan characterized the whole affair as "most astounding."

YOUNG WOMAN'S WIFE AND HIMSELF IN CHILD'S PRESENCE

Durdell Goodwin Commits Double Tragedy When Woman Refuses to Return to Him.

SEPARATED 2 WEEKS AGO

Mrs. Goodwin Had Gone to Mother's Home Where the Shooting Occurs.

Durdell Goodwin, 25 years old, shot and killed his wife, Myrtle, 23 years old, yesterday afternoon, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Benhoff, 1128 St. Louis avenue, and then took his own life. The double tragedy, enacted in the presence of the 1-year-old child of the couple, was the result of an estrangement and the refusal of Mrs. Goodwin to return to her husband.

Prior to two weeks ago the couple, who had been married two years, lived at 313 North Eleventh street. They quarreled and Mrs. Goodwin returned to her mother's home.

Yesterday afternoon Goodwin called there and asked to be permitted to take the baby to his photograph taken. He was admitted and asked his wife to return to him. She refused, and while they were arguing Mrs. Benhoff went out in the yard.

Three shots were fired, and Mrs. Goodwin fell through the kitchen door, dying. Other shots were heard and Goodwin was found lying dead on the floor with the revolver lying on his breast. The baby was sitting on the bed screaming.

When the body was examined it was found that Goodwin had shot his wife three times and himself four times.

The young woman, when she was Miss Myrtle Benhoff, was the fiancée of Arthur W. Bittner, who is serving a 10-year sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of his father four years ago. Young Bittner's attentions to Miss Benhoff caused an estrangement between him and his father and was a contributing cause of the killing of the elder Bittner.

SHERIFF OF MECCA DECLARES INDEPENDENCE OF ARABS

Proclamation Announces Formal Break With Young Turk Rulers at Constantinople.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Grand Sheriff of Mecca, chief magistrate of the Holy City, who announced yesterday that he was breaking with the Young Turk rulers at Constantinople, has proclaimed a definite rupture between orthodox Mohammedans and those who are following the new path of union and progress, which is now in power in Turkey.

The proclamation of the Grand Sheriff, addressed to "All Moslem brothers," follows:

"We were one with the Government until the unionists appeared. Since then ruin has overtaken the state, which now has been drawn into this fatal war. We bore with the unionists notwithstanding their departure from the precepts of religion until it became apparent that Enver Pasha, Djemal Pasha and Talaat were absolutely ruled Turkey, doing whatever they pleased. On one day they hanged 21 of the most honorable and enlightened Moslems, while children, old men and delicate women were bereaved of their natural protectors and subjected to foul usage, even torture. What stronger proof of their faithlessness is needed than the bombardment of holy places such as Abraham's Tomb and the killing of persons praying within a mosque."

"God has opened the way to independence and freedom for us. Our independence is complete and absolute. Our aim is preservation of Islam."

ROGERS TELLS HOW CITY COULD SAVE $1,000,000 A YEAR ON ITS PAYROLL

More Than 250 of 478 Inspectors Are Unnecessary—Departments Have Bookkeepers and Secretaries Who Have Little to Do, He Says.

Thomas H. Rogers, chairman of the Efficiency Board, says that the saving of $1,000,000 a year in salaries now paid to needless municipal employees, depends only on the enforcement of charter requirements for efficiency.

Hundreds of useless positions in all departments of the city government, Rogers says, can be abolished by a consolidation of duties, a standardization of wages and the transfer of employees from sinecures to actual, productive employment.

In some instances, one of which Chairman Rogers cited, departments have increased their annual cost to the taxpayers while their usefulness has steadily diminished. In other cases, Rogers said, work that formerly was performed by one or two men is now parcelled among four or five with the sole object of creating jobs for politicians.

"To give specific example of the way in which jobs are multiplied," Rogers said, "I need only mention the numerous hands of inspectors to be found on the different payrolls. There are 478 men classified as inspectors. But of course there are many others concealed under such designations as 'pavers,' 'laborers,' 'clerks,' 'foremen' and the like. There are 'leak inspectors,' 'sidewalk inspectors,' 'street inspectors,' 'building inspectors,' 'sanitary inspectors' and 'sewer inspectors.'"

Jobs Could Be Combined. "A sidewalk inspector, a sewer inspector and a street inspector traverse the same ground, as a rule, and any one of them could do the work of the other two and not be overburdened. It might be urged that some special knowledge or skill is required in each of these and that the sidewalk inspector, for example, might not be qualified for the position of sewer inspector. That is true, but to that objection is that most of these jobs are held by politicians or others who had no training for their respective duties before they were appointed."

"From my observations before a too office and from investigation since, I am satisfied that not more than 250 of the 478 inspectors employed by the city are necessary, and in this total I have not included 51 sanitary officers and 59 or more who are doing the work of the sidewalk inspectors. The average salary of inspectors is $1000 a year. Combining inspection duties so that one set of men would serve as sewer, street and sidewalk inspectors, would save $250,000 a year in salaries alone."

"One has only to run through a list of the city's employees to be convinced that from 10 to 25 per cent of them are unnecessary. Excluding those in the Fire Department, the city employs 1000 men and 35 chauffeurs. In addition to these, there are employed 272 teamsters and teams, and 22 carts and drivers, at wages of from $2.25 to $5 a day. There are on the payroll also 155 watchmen, not counting the 2500 police officers. There are 82 superintendents and 118 foremen; 109 janitors and 24 porters; 74 professional engineers, 10 surveyors and one transit man; 70 stationery engineers and 13 firemen; 74 draftsmen; 80 stenographers and 4 clerks."

"One has only to run through a list of the different classes because many more are listed on the payrolls as 'laborers,' 'mechanics,' 'overseers' and 'pavers.'"

Assessor's Force Not Increased. "I feel sure that many of these employees are not needed. In some cases the trouble seems to be to give the impression of activity. The only departments that have not materially increased the number of their employees and the charges for salaries are the Auditor's, Comptroller's and Assessor's offices. The Assessor has the same force that it had 36 years ago."

"The Building Commissioner's office cost the taxpayers $35,548.61 for salaries in 1907. This year the appropriation for salaries of employees is $32,820. In 1908 the Building Commissioner collected $21,569 in fees. Last year these collections were $22,840. The salaries were more than doubled in eight years, while the income grew only about a third."

It is conditions like these that explain why the appropriations for salaries have grown from $4,074,482.64 in 1903 to $7,492,848.15 in 1916. Seventy-five per cent of the revenues of the city are expended in salaries.

By eliminating sinecures, combining duties and reducing excessive salaries, at least 15 per cent of these great expenditures could be saved. Expressed in dollars and cents, that saving would be $1,125,000 a year. I know my estimate of 15 per cent is too low."

"Such positions as those of departmental bookkeepers and secretaries are for the most part unnecessary. On the list in this instance there are 14 bookkeepers, but the number is larger than that, because men who are keeping accounts are in some instances designated as clerks. One departmental bookkeeper receives a salary of $1500 a year. Several others receive $1800 a year. The average salary for this position is about $1350 a year. There are 15 secretaries whose salaries will average about the same amount. It is doubtful whether any of these bookkeepers is really needed. I think that some of the secretarial positions could be abolished, also."

Only Single Entry Books. Investigation of this statement of Chairman Rogers was made by a Post-Dispatch reporter, who found that departmental bookkeepers merely make a record of the vouchers drawn by respective departments for salaries and supplies. No cash or journal entries are made. Only a ledger is used and on the credit side there is usually but one entry, namely, the amount of the department's appropriation at the beginning of each fiscal year. This bookkeeping, in detail, is done also in the Comptroller's office for each department and division.

"At the beginning of the current fiscal year," Rogers continued, "there were not included in these classified service. All together, 573 employees were subject to the efficiency provisions of the charter. Almost an equal number were beyond the jurisdiction of the Efficiency Board, although paid out of municipal revenue."

"The latter are the employees of the Circuit and Criminal Courts, Circuit Attorney's office, Prosecuting Attorney's office, Probate Court, Circuit Clerk, Commissioner, Public Administrator, Treasurer, License Collector, Collector of the Revenue, Recorder of Deeds, Excise Commissioner, Justices of the Peace and Comptables, Board of Education, Art Museum, Public Library and Police Department. The total number of employees who draw salaries from the city is 12,800, according to a careful estimate I have made."

"No private corporation would adopt the city's practice of employing its staff without some sort of test of their character, fitness and efficiency. St. Louis will have to go to some private institution of its own and insist on competence to take lessons in economy and efficiency. The beginning is obviously a survey to determine the number of municipal employees, the values of the work they are performing, the time they give to the city, their fitness and the amount of their respective salaries. Until this is done, attempts to reduce and equalize salaries, introduce systems and improve the municipal service cannot be successfully undertaken. To my notion that is the big task for the Efficiency Board."

TENNESSEANS FALL OUT OVER STILLB PAT AND ONE IS KILLED

Alleged Partners in Wildcat Distillery Quarrel Over a Missing Vessel.

GAINESBORO, Tenn., Aug. 25.—Alex Tidwell was shot to death by William Johnson at Smith's mill on Brimstone Creek, in this county, and the slayer was at once seriously cut by relatives of the dead man, but will recover.

Johnson and Tidwell were alleged partners in a wildcat distillery. According to the story, the latter went to fire on the still one morning and found the pot gone. He followed footprints for some distance, finally being convinced that Johnson had taken it, the vessel being found hidden in a clump of bushes.

There were frequent accusations and as frequent denials. Tidwell at length threatened his former partner with a club in the presence of a crowd of their friends. Johnson thereupon went home, got his shotgun and, returning to the mill, killed his accuser. Attack by the dead man's relatives promptly followed, and the trial of the men is to take place next month.

WANTS GERMANY TO KEEP PART OF SLAV TERRITORY

Independent Committee for German Peace insists on "Guarantee" as to Belgium.

BITTER AGAINST ENGLAND

Says "Changes" Will Be Necessary Also Because of Attitude of France.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 25.—A proclamation containing views on the peace conditions, which might be inspired by Germany, is published today by the "Independent Committee for a German Peace," an organization formed some time ago by those considered to be the extreme war advocates in Germany. The proclamation asserts that despite the fact that the Germans and their allies are holding three kingdoms in their hands, the extent still talks of the destruction of the German empire and sentence statesmen continue to indulge in a flood of abuse and lies about Germany, while themselves violating every principle of international law, forcing neutrals to enter the war against their better judgment and endeavoring to force into submission through hunger, millions whom their swords cannot vanquish.

"Our enemies will not succeed," continues the proclamation. "One thing they have accomplished is to force upon us the realization that England is our special and most dangerous enemy. England causes our enemies to stick together. England leads them. Upon England they depend and will depend more after the war. On the wreckage of our empire England hopes to unfurl the banner of Anglo-Saxon world dominion."

The document asserts that Russian territory from the Baltic to Volynia must in the future be included in the German sphere, to serve as a bulwark against the Russian tendency to annihilate Germany.

France's revenge ideas must constantly be kept in mind so that in the West also changes would be necessary. Belgium in the future, the proclamation adds, either will be a German or an English bulwark, so "real guarantees" here also are needed.

The document then cites the expression of Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic Center party in the Reichstag, that "Belgium must lie in German hands militarily, economically and politically."

The proclamation concludes with the assertion: "England's plan threatens us with political and economical slavery. It aims at our life as a people and as a State. It aims at our culture and institutions. Energy must be applied regardless of consequences to force peace upon this enemy. Let it not come true that, as England says, we will win all the battles, but England will win the war. With Von Hindenburg, let us say it is not only a question of sticking it out, but winning."

"ENGLISH BRUTAL EGOTISTS," SAYS BROTHER OF KAISER

Force Only Thing That Will Bring Men to Reason, Says Prince Henry in Kiel Interview.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Prince Henry of Prussia, the Kaiser's brother, has granted an interview in which he bitterly attacks the English. It was published in the Kiel Neueste Nachrichten, an Amsterdam dispatch to the London Daily Mail states. Prince Henry is reported to have said:

"No one knows what the German navy has achieved and is achieving. Technically it is simply magnificent; everything is done on the quiet. We are always ready, but they do not care."

"This people began a war against us out of pure commercial jealousy. I have lived and worked with them for years; have played tennis with them and sailed with them, but everything is done, even in sport and games, is done with the exclusive object of getting on top by every manner of trick. Pure pleasure in the game is unknown to them; they are acquainted only with sheer selfishness and brutal egotism."

"The only thing that will bring them to reason is brute force."

War Secretary Speaking in Maine.
Pratt's President's Achievements in Foreign Relations.

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 25.—Secretary of War Baker was the principal speaker at a meeting held here last night in connection with the Democratic campaign in Maine in behalf of President Wilson.

"The administration has kept the peace," he said. "It has done unto Mexico as we would be done by and has infused the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and of the Golden Rule into its foreign relations. It has maintained friendly relations with the European belligerents and placed this country in a position from which, at the end of the great European struggle, the moral forces of the United States can be exercised in the interests of justice and humanity."

"The long and troubled course of our dealing with Mexico has been, in part at least," he declared, "because both President Taft and President Wilson believed that a nation loving justice, as I hope we love it, could not extend its favor to this medieval despot, cast up with all his villainies upon his head as a steam by the waters of a revolution otherwise hopeful and pure as to its object."

BAG OF JEWELRY ON WOMAN HELD WITH HUSBAND

Man Arrested While Trying to Sell Watch Had Five Rings in His Pocket.

A man who said he was William C. Davidson of 1111 Market street was arrested yesterday afternoon when he tried to sell a gold watch to a jeweler at Fourteenth and Market streets. In his pockets five gold rings were found.

At his lodging place a woman was found who said she was Davidson's wife. When she was searched at police headquarters a bag was found in the bosom of her dress, in which were three women's gold watches, one with a chain attached, three men's gold watches, a pearl necklace, four brooches, a stickpin, four beauty pins and two bracelets. One of the women's watches was inscribed "Christmas, 1913," and the initials H. L. and the third the initials N. G. One of the bracelets bore the initials E. F. S. and the other the initials M. E. S. and the third the initials M. E. S.

The man had two baggage checked. Detectives found two suit cases at Union Station, containing clothing, odds and ends of jewelry and some silverware. They had been checked at Chicago.

Market street pawn brokers identified Davidson as the man who had pawned articles stolen two weeks ago from the home of William Sullivan, 5028 Stevin avenue. Davidson says he bought all the jewelry. The woman will not talk.

Did you know that Hess & Culbertson will sell you a dainty diamond ring for as little as $10? Seventh and St. Charles.

$20 CAKE FOR D. R. FRANCIS STOLEN FROM AN AUTOMOBILE

Recovered From Thieves After Chase by C. D. Todebush, Who Will Take It to Petrograd.

A cake, valued at $20, intended as a gift for David R. Francis, Ambassador to Russia, was stolen yesterday afternoon from an automobile belonging to Charles D. Todebush, 3448 Pestalozzi street, at Seventh street and Washington avenue.

Todebush, accompanied by a policeman, chased the thieves to Seventeenth street and Washington avenue and recovered the cake. The men arrested said that they were John McAndrew, 2218 University street, and John O'Connell, 3813 Garfield avenue.

Todebush, who has been employed as a bookkeeper by D. R. Francis & Co., told the police he would be unable to remain to prosecute the prisoners as he must go to Petrograd, where he is to accept a position as accountant in the American Embassy. The cake, he said, was a testimonial to Ambassador Francis from St. Louis friends.

It takes the strength of decision to save part of your income—but the kind of decision that strikes while the iron's hot. Today is the time for you to open your savings account at the Mercantile Trust Company, Eighth and Locust Streets—a member of the Federal Reserve System and under United States Government protection.

Three Autos Reported Missing. An electric coupe belonging to Frank A. Pratt, 2239 California avenue, was stolen last night from the garage behind his home. A touring car, the property of E. J. Lynch of 3832 Russell avenue, was driven away from Third and St. Charles streets. Philip G. Lauf of Granite City reported that his roadster was stolen from Grand avenue and Lindell boulevard.

Romance Starts Over Telephone, and Kansas City Girl Kills Herself.

In a note Mrs. Hofer told of her love for the man, whom the police are seeking.

ing, and said he often had drugged her. Three weeks ago Mrs. Hofer, who had been living apart from her husband for nearly a year, answered a telephone call at her sister's home. The man had the wrong number, but a telephone flirtation and a meeting followed.

SAYS SWINDLERS GOT $5,000,000 FROM MORRISON

Lawyer Declares That for 20 Years Underworld Characters Preyed on Aged Millionaire.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Edward W. Morrison, the 80-year-old recluse, whose vanished millions are a subject of investigation before Judge Landis in the United States District Court, was declared today to have been mulcted out of property valued at $5,000,000 by a coterie of strange characters within the last 20 years.

Francis J. Houlihan, counsel for Morrison's creditors, declared that unscrupulous lawyers, women and habitués of Chicago's underworld came into the life of the aged man whose wealth is estimated to have been from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, to obtain his money. He was taken on trips to other cities, Attorney Houlihan declared, women were brought to see him, and new characters introduced to keep his fortune dwindling.

Morrison's Home Searched.

Search of the recluse's quaint, old, two-story house in which it was thought he had concealed vast sums of money revealed $11,713 and a bunch of old papers, canceled checks and notes.

In one pocket almost one hundred "I. O. U.'s" written in various hands but unsigned, and which totalled something over $150,000 were found. Each slip of paper bore "I. O. U." for amounts ranging from $500 to $2000. No trace of deeds, titles and other records of ownership to property reputed to be worth $5,000,000 was found.

Investigation into the affairs of Morrison has revealed that James R. Ward, counsel for the aged man, is holding more than $2,000,000 worth of property conveyed to him by Morrison.

John Sommers, a jeweler, disposed of $300,000 of Morrison's fortune in "enterprising" him. Mrs. Kate Hiltner, formerly keeper of a lace shop, obtained $50,000 in cash and $70,000 in bonds during the life of Morrison's wife, who died in 1908. They were gifts, Mrs. Hiltner asserted.

Recluse Sent $3000 to Detectives.

In one case, Morrison, himself, admitted he had paid $3000 to Sommers to "send to detectives in Scotland Yard."

Visitors in the courtroom were disappointed yesterday when adjournment was reached without the appearance on the stand of Allen J. Margaret Burnstein, 16 and 12 years old, respectively, adopted daughters of Morrison, whom Joseph Burnstein, their supposed father, testified were really Morrison's own daughters.

James R. Ward, counsel for the millionaire, said that Morrison had been an easy victim of "confidence men" all his life.

"He has been swindled out of hundreds of thousands of dollars by an organized gang," Ward declared.

Marie Schneider played with striking skill and effect. Miss Florence Smith, who accompanied the children on the piano in the musical numbers of the sketches contributed a solo that added greatly to the evening's pleasure. Edna and Tessa Moseley sang a duet with exquisite sweetness. Much credit is due to the Misses Alto Bruno and Elsie Kowatsch, who rehearsed the children and to Mrs. Alex Kowatsch, who acted as doorman. Mrs. E. Kowatsch, Blanche Bruno, and John Wright had charge of the ice cream booth, and Alexander Kowatsch had charge of the curtain. Tickets for the affair were sold for five and ten cents. Prior to the dialogues there was a welcome song by all the children, "Around the Throne of God in Heaven," and after the second dialogue all the children sang "Jesus Bids Us Shine" followed by a chorus "Good-night, Good-night."

A minstrel show given at the home of Louis Wise, 3008 Dickson street, Saturday, added $1.15 to the Pure Milk and Free Ice fund. This was supplemented by the production of "Little Red Riding Hood." The entertainment concluded with a vocal solo by Silvia Wise, "America, I Love You." Those who participated in the splendid affair were: Silvia and Louis Wise and Max Marcus, all of 3008 Dickson street.

GIRL HIT BY TWO LOCOMOTIVES ONLY CUT AND BRUISED

Fast Mail Train Throws Miss Dorothy Rollinson, 18, Against Switch Engine.

Miss Dorothy Rollinson, 18 years old, a clerk of 6240 Famous avenue, was struck by two locomotive engines in succession at 8 o'clock this morning when she started over the Frisco tracks from the south side to the north side at the Knox avenue grade crossing. The first engine, pulling a fast mail train from the West into the city, knocked her against a switch engine going west on the north track. The switch engine hurtled into her from the south side, but she was not hurt. The Frisco Hospital it was considered remarkable that no bones were broken and that the girl's only injuries were cuts and bruises.

The watchman at the crossing, Roy Sweetin of 446 Gibson avenue, told the police he had tried to lower the gates, but that the south gate failed to work. The north gate was down, he said. Miss Rollinson, who was accompanied by her sister, Lucille, evidently stepped upon the track before she saw the trains approaching.

The fast train took the injured girl, her sister and a policeman to Tower Grove Station and from there Miss Rollinson was sent to the Frisco Hospital. Physicians there said her injuries were not serious.

by Edwin Cohen. Gertrude Janzow charitably rendered a fancy dance. Leslie Jacobs recited "I Went to the Animal Fair." Ben F. Modisett, impersonating a woman, did a Salome dance. Charlotte Kenyon recited "One-Two-Three" and "The Baker Show" was recited by Ethel Savin, while Miles Savin gave "Needles and Pins." These excellently rendered numbers were supplemented by several others of a highly entertaining nature. The entire affair was organized in one week.

$3 From Lemonade Sale.
A lemonade stand conducted at the corner of Garrison and Thomas streets yielded $3 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice fund, the beverage being sold for a penny a glass. Bechle and Hazel Mayowitz of 282 Thomas street, and Charlotte Friedman of 261 Thomas, were the principals in this enterprise.

"MANIFESTO" BY VON TIRPITZ

State Department Hears He Urged Renewal of Submarine Warfare.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Mail reports of a "manifesto" issued by Admiral von Tirpitz, former head of the German navy, calling for an unrestricted renewal of submarine warfare, have been received from Berlin by the State Department. The dispatches are vague. The text is not included, nor is it revealed what official position, if any, Von Tirpitz now holds.

"The manifesto," issued about a month ago, declared renewal of submarine operations would do no harm so far as the United States is concerned, as this country already is doing Germany as much damage as possible. Why Von Tirpitz would be permitted to issue such a manifesto if it were violently in disagreement with official policy is not understood by officials here.

FIND MAN BEATING HIS WIFE

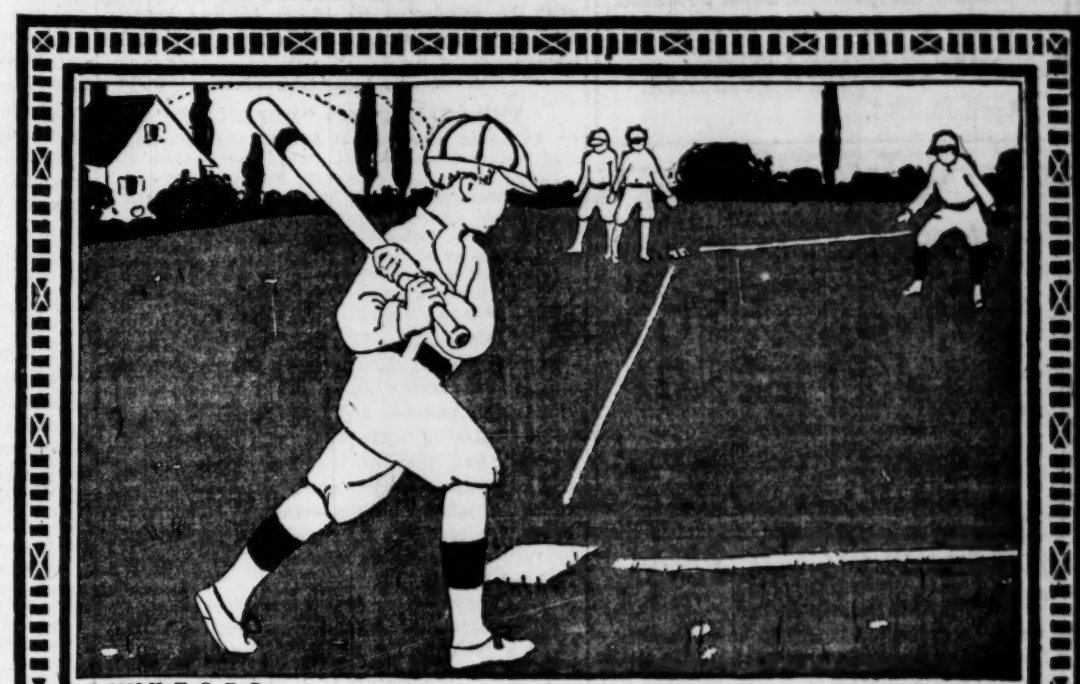

Policemen Arrest John E. Stewart at His Home.
Policemen were attracted about 2:15 o'clock this morning by the cries of a woman to the home of John E. Stewart, a commission merchant, at 164 North Union boulevard, where they found Stewart beating his wife. He was arrested and his wife said she would prosecute him. She said that his ill temper was occasioned by his drinking. Stewart will appear in police court.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

An Armenian's View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I am indeed sorry that I was not able to attend the meeting held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in honor of the memory of Sir Roger Casement. The undersigned is an unfortunate member of a persecuted nation, as well as a loyal citizen of this great country. I have a profound sympathy for all other persecuted nations, but I am sorry I cannot subscribe to the principles upheld in the meeting.

First of all, the speakers did not reflect American or the spirit of Washington and Lincoln. What is the difference between the Irish revolutionist and Nurse Cavell, the English nurse? We will get the right answer to this question if we take this matter into consideration with equanimity. Sir Casement was proven a traitor; while his homeland was fighting the battle for human liberty, Sir Casement was caught on board the ship of the enemy loaded with ammunition. A man of his type is removed in the meeting referred to, regardless of his flagrant crime. As to Nurse Cavell, a helpless woman, she was shot dead by the German Governor of Belgium because she dressed the wounds of German soldiers who were not the same and shed tears for both. This is not the first time when the German Government committed. It burned the whole city of Louvain; it sank the Lusitania with more than 100 Americans on board.

If the speakers reflect, "undiluted" Americanism, why did they not hold a meeting in honor of the memories of Nurse Cavell and the hundred and odd Americans? I am constrained to believe that the meeting in honor of the memory of Sir Casement was under the control of certain big phoned Americans. The masses of the Irishmen in this city do not concur in opinion with such a meeting, since many a small nation, as Belgium, Serbia, Poland and Armenia, which are filled with widows and orphans, are bled to death. These latter are day and night praying for the downfall of the War Lord, and the prayers are about to be answered.

AN ARMENIAN.

The Fighting Irish.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The last letter of "Another Irishman" has me floored completely. He is economical with the truth in stating that I "proudly boasted" of owning 10 volumes of Irish literature and a bookcase. He doubtless owns a magnificent library. I will not answer another letter as I cannot compete with him. Besides he dodges the main points. He defines a single word disproving his assertions "by an authentic Irish writer." Presumably he reserves the right to judge who is, or is not, authentic, and considers as who are the persons incapable of telling the truth.

However, I have learned something from his letters. It seems that Ireland is not a part of the British empire, which Germany set out to destroy and that the detested Irish soldiers are fighting for England only. In my ignorance I supposed they were also fighting for the British empire, which includes all the Irish and Irish descendants in Ireland, England, Scotland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India and for their old friends, the French.

Thank you "Another Irishman" and say "good-bye."
IRISHMAN.

Humor Misunderstood.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Your editorial of Aug. 18, "Snakebites and Their Cures," in which you quote Prof. Dittmas of the Bronx, who thinks that the use of the modern medical knowledge. No physician, unless he is of the backwoods type, would for a minute recommend the use of whiskey as a remedy or cure for snakebite. In fact, every reputable physician strongly advises against its use. We know not a single authoritative writer who recommends it.

Ernest Thompson Seton, chief scout in "Boy Scouts of America," says: "It is estimated that in North America only about two persons in a hundred bitten are killed by the poison, though many more die from carelessness or bad treatment, the worst of which is the filling up with whiskey, which aids the poison rather than counteracts it." He adds: "The essential things in case of snakebite are: 1. Keeping one's wits etc." Who ever knew of a drunken man keeping his wits?

Taking Prof. Dittmas' statement that "a few years ago snakebite killed only one person in every three or four persons per annum now, granting that the use of whiskey lowered the mortality (which is untrue), shall we sacrifice the hundreds and blight the future of thousands of the young with promising futures for the trifling few, say three or four, who are the annual prey of the serpent?"

M. A. BRYSON.

POLICE AND POLITICS.

We hold no brief for the St. Joseph Police Commissioners. Even the manner of their taking off by a disappointed candidate for Governor may little mar the joy of their removal. They were in politics.

As to the St. Louis assault we have this to say—it will not help any man's ambition.

Swinging the ax in the St. Louis Police Department for political purposes and attempting to put the police into politics will not promote Democratic success in St. Louis, much less the success of any man or men for whose benefit the job may be done.

A shining merit of the McPheeters police administration was the freedom of the police from partisan orders and interference in elections. To change the rule and attempt to attach the police power to any candidate or group of candidates will be a fatal step. It will defeat the object for which it was intended.

May our boys in Mexico never have to cross the border! The Mexican army can at any moment be reinforced by 20,000 fighting women. No boy wants to shoot women or be shot by women.

THE BULL MOOSE "DEFECTION."

It would be absurd to belittle the defection of such men as John M. Parker, of Louisiana; Judge Lindsey of Colorado; Francis J. Heney of California; Matthew Hale of Massachusetts; Edwin N. Lee of Indiana; J. A. H. Hopkins of New Jersey; Judge Norton of Missouri; Bainbridge Colby of New York and Henry M. Wallace of Michigan. There are a large number of Progressives who strongly believe in President Wilson—Philadelphia North American.

Why "defection"? There is no forsaking of Progressive party principles on the part of Bull Moosers in turning to President Wilson, whose progressive policies and achievements logically entitled him to their support. The only "defection" was that of the Bull Moose leaders and campaign contributors who tried to deliver to Mr. Hughes and his standpat sponsors the party that cast four millions and a half of votes in 1912—the greatest "defection" in American political history.

Some years ago a noted lawyer declared bribery to be a conventional offense. The president of a great railroad now says that the expenditure of funds for political purposes is a private matter. Ill fares the land where such ideas prevail in high places.

KEEP A COW.

With the milk strike entering on the stage of indefinite continuance, St. Louisans might as well face the distasteful inevitable. Milk and its various products and byproducts are a necessity and if the dairy companies cannot or will not deliver them, the only hope of relief from the intolerable bore of going to distant dairy stations after them is for all of us to keep a cow.

There are difficulties, of course. Certainly they are not to be belittled. Just how a dairy herd big enough to supply the required output in the vicinage is to be introduced among the already abundant life of our congested districts has not yet been worked out. Thousands of dwellers in flats and apartments who are forced to the reluctant conclusion that they'll have to get a cow do not yet see just exactly where they are going to keep her. But a determined and buttermilk-loving people will not be baffled by details.

Whoever heard of a man hesitating to buy an automobile because he didn't know where to keep it? The ingenuity that found quarters for the motor car can discover garage room in the most unpromising places for the useful, gentle cow that gives us fermilac and Bulgarian bacilli.

Those who can't keep a cow can keep a goat. Nobody with the price ever refused to buy a jitney car for the sole reason that he could not afford a twin six.

The battling Europeans, in making so tremendous a war, probably suppose, with Henry Ward Beecher, that there is more moral power in one rifle than in a hundred Bibles.

THE HUMAN PAWN AT BENBOW CITY.

We don't know what to make of Benbow City's treatment of Farmer Hornbeck. They certainly have an exotic, bizarre and arbitrary scheme of justice in that beautiful little Illinois metropolis. Said scheme bears a pungent resemblance to the modus operandi of the East Indian Bataks, who enslave a victim in order that he may work himself out and buy himself free.

It seems that Benbow City arrested Farmer Hornbeck when he came to town from out Griggsville way—arrested him on a minor charge and boarded him in jail for 10 days. Then Benbow City dismissed the charge against him on condition that he would work out the "costs" on the streets. The "costs" amount to $15.10.

Farmer Hornbeck is industriously industrializing on the main thoroughfare with appropriate implements, smoothing out ruts and filling hog wallows with a per diem credit of about $1.50, so that in 10 days he will be a free and upstanding citizen of the United States and the Commonwealth of Illinois. In the meantime he is enjoying about the same status and civil rights under this glorious Republic as a pyramid-builder under Ptolemy, or what ever his name was who built the pyramids with the whip, over in the original Egypt.

It strikes us as pretty rough to charge a man jail-board on the express and official assumption of his innocence. The presumption upon which Benbow acts is that a man is still guilty after his innocence is established. A contrary rule is supposed to prevail in America. To have jailed an innocent 10 days ought to satisfy a moderately aboriginal metropolis, without charging him exorbitantly for inferior board, for which he did not contract and had no use. Besides, the jail was warm. The only alternative of innocence would have been to take more punishment, and have a correspondingly longer bill to work out.

In the Katagan Valley on Timor Island a debtor in pawn may run up such a bill against himself as to become a slave for life. We think we can see a life sentence for the innocent in Benbow City as well. On the whole we believe we would elect to plead guilty in Benbow City.

AN INSPIRING JOB.

Having given fulsome endorsement of the Major administration we presume the Democratic candidates for State offices will enthusiastically defend it.

They will defend and praise nepotism. They will defend and praise the brutal and incompetent mismanagement of the penitentiary. They will defend and praise the muddling of the State finances and the attempt to rob the schools of funds to meet the deficiency.

They will praise and defend discrimination in taxation.

They will paint Gov. Major as a model of courage and ability.

They will praise and defend Gov. Major's juggling with the excise to further his political ambitions.

They will hail devotion to the tango as the cap sheaf of qualifications for the office of Governor.

They will assure the people that the Gardner administration, if the Democrats carry the State, will be a fac simile of the Major administration.

They will appeal to the enthusiastic admiration of the people of Missouri for Major and his works as a reason for the election of Col. Gardner, who was, of course, nominated on account of his enthusiastic support of the Major administration.

In living up to their platform declaration the Democratic candidates will have an inspiring and cheerful job.

Germany may have but one Koenig as well as but one Kaiser. Submarine commerce is yet a little uncertain.

OBSTINACY AND ARBITRATION.

President Jacob Schreiner and Secretary Eugene Smith of the Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis sent a telegram to President Wilson declaring that the members of the exchange are a unit in asking that he insist on the arbitration of the railroad dispute. The principle of arbitration is upheld in these strong words:

To yield it (the principle) at this time would mean far more than any property damage that might come from a temporary cessation of traffic. Arbitration should be the solvent of all disputes between employer and employee and is the corner stone of the American industrial structure. Because one party to the controversy, no matter how great its number, is obstinate and will not submit the question to arbitration is all the more reason why you should bring the great weight of your authority as our President to accomplish this result. Failure to secure arbitration at this time will mean a spread of disorder, innumerable future controversies in all branches of industry.

The dairy owners of St. Louis about the time this telegram was received at the White House summarily rejected another proposal to arbitrate the demands of their drivers. As they have repeatedly rejected the same proposal before, it seems that the presumption of "obstinacy" may attach to their action.

If the Merchants' Exchange members are a unit on the duty to force arbitration on the railroad employes, they must be a unit on the duty of forcing arbitration on the milkmen employes. If arbitration is the "corner stone of American industry," why make long-distance appeals to Washington for its utilization in the railroad dispute, which seems to be in able hands, and is actually in process of arbitration, when so splendid an opportunity for its utilization is presented right here at home?

Why not send a copy of the appeal with the proper changes in address and name to each one of the employing dairy establishments? Give St. Louis the benefit of a little of this "solvent of disputes."

A State party platform may be very long without being broad.

A DISCOURAGED REPUBLICAN ROOSTER.

Next to a Hughes speech appears an item from Mount Vernon, N. Y., concerning a rooster, one of the vociferous Republican type which do duty in that neighborhood on the morning after a national election—sometimes. This rooster was drunk, disorderly and evidently bent on self-destruction when arrested by the local constabulary. The dispatch reads:

The rooster staggered out of the Weber House and down Fourth avenue, bumped against the Constable's legs, staggered across First street, frightened two women, fell under an automobile and nearly succeeded in dropping into the New Haven Railroad cut, when the officer took it into custody. He smelled liquor on it.

All the male poultry in that neck of the woods, as well as in many other normally Republican strongholds, is likely to be seized with acute melancholia and alcoholism as the campaign increasingly discloses the inevitable.

DIVORCE PREVENTION FORMULA.

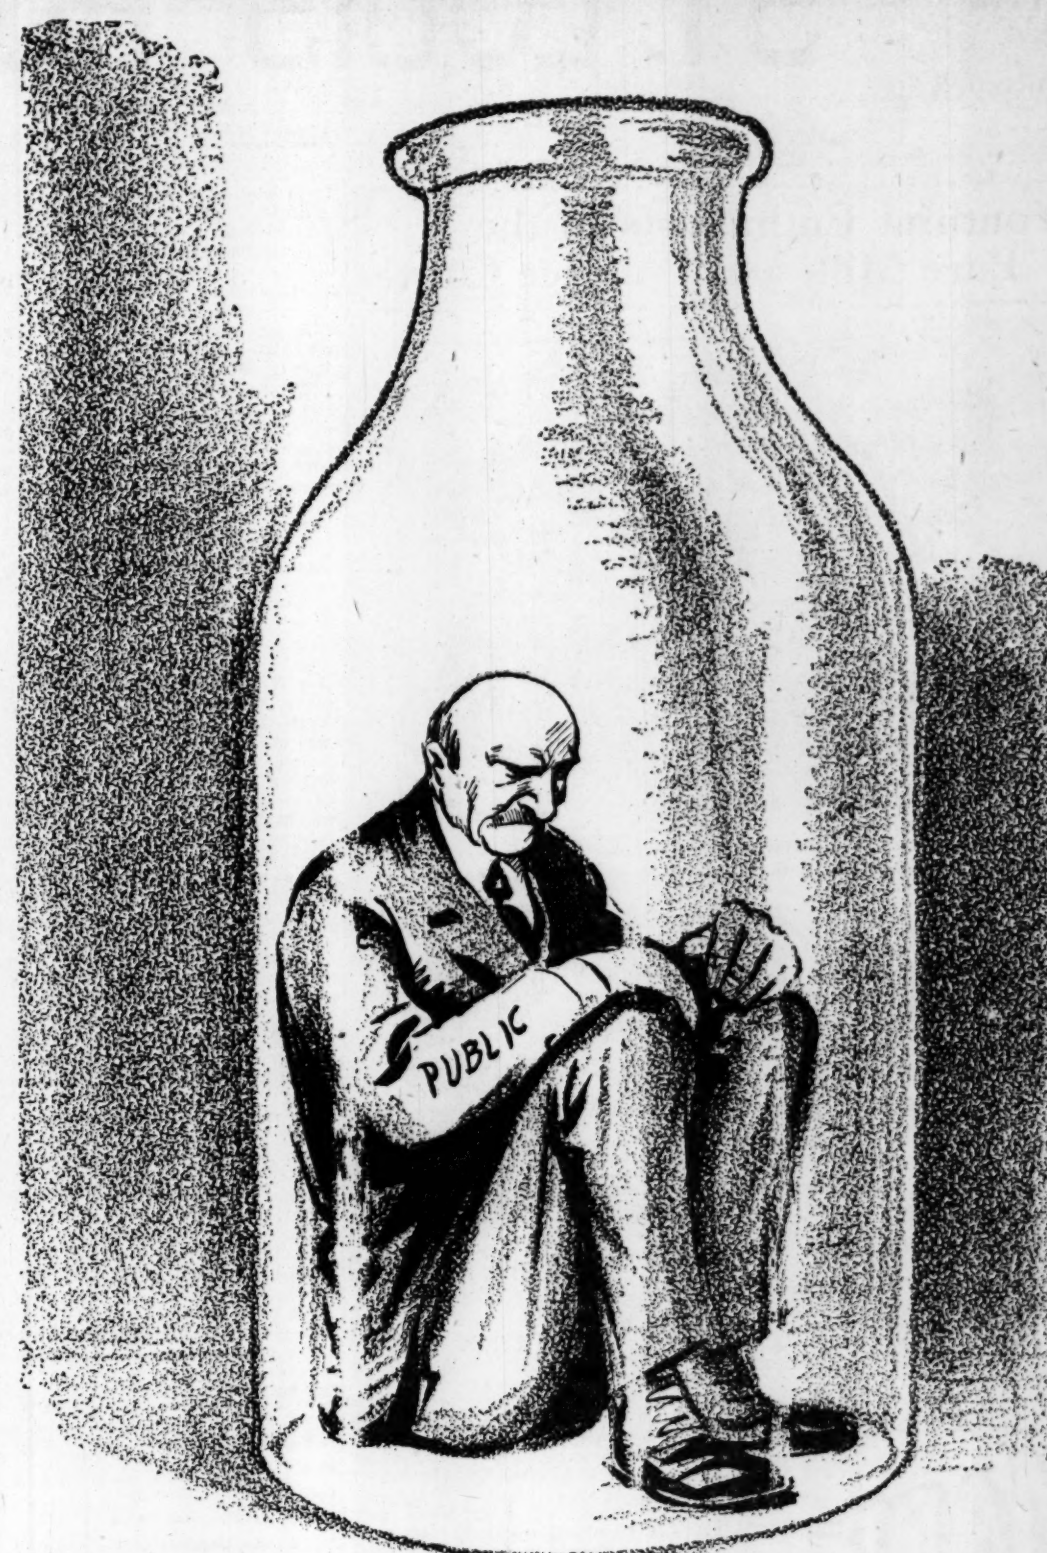

Start with one husband and one wife, add one flat, subtract home comforts, multiply by monthly installments and divide by one roomer and the product is one divorce, according to an Ohio Judge who has been figuring out family problems that way.

This Judge has found that the male roomer, alias "the man in the house," is the greatest common divisor in American matrimonial mathematics.

It works out this way: The young man who has added to himself a wife without multiplying his income finds that his accounts do not balance at the end of the month. He divides the flat with a roomer. This roomer, with honorable intentions, takes the wife to the movies while the husband is trying to puzzle out how to make 2 plus 2 equal 6 in the payment of monthly installments.

By and by comes suspicion, and to suspicion is added jealousy and another divorce suit is added to the docket and one more happy family is divided.

The remedy he proposes is one house to each lot and one family to each house, no flats, no apartments and no boarders. He calculates that when the problem is worked that way it will be found that, in defiance of arithmetic, 1 and 1 will be one in family affairs, as it was before flats and male boarders came along to queer the quotient.

CITIZEN WOOD TAKES UP ARMS AGAINST A SEA OF QUISP.

From the Liberator (Mo.) Herald.

After being sick for some two or three weeks in the month of June, with bowel trouble, being able to be up at intervals of only a day or two at a time, the report was developed that my illness was due to drunkenness, and that I had drunk to such an extent that I had the Jim-Jams. This report is still in circulation and seems to be growing in volume as time goes on. I write this for the purpose of clearing such statement, and if necessary one forthright corroborative testimony by some of the most reputable citizens of Liberton. The statement that I was in the condition attributed to me is as false as the person in whose perverted mind and rotten brain such a devilish report to injure me was incubated.—T. A. WOOD.

THAT WAS WHAT MADE THEM MAD.

HERE is a story for Democratic orators in the campaign: A negro preacher who was informed by his Board of Deacons that his services were to be dispensed with demanded an explanation:

"Ain't Ah argufied wid de sinners?" he demanded.

"Yes, brudder, you has been long on argufication," replied one of the deacons.

"And ain't Ah spuffed concernin' de Scriptures?"

"Yes, brudder, you am powerful strong on spuffication," admitted another of the deacons.

"Den what am de matter wif mah services?" demanded the pastor.

"Well," responded one of the church board, scratching his woolly pate, "it am like dis. You argufy and you spuffity, but yo' don't specify where-in."

HE COULDN'T WAIT.

From the Walton (Mo.) Eagle.

"A Victim of Liquor" was not put on at the Opera House last night by the repertoire company because the leading man hit Kelton's saloon first and played his part there.

Much of what Mr. Hughes says dates back to the time when he left active political life and took the robe of the United States Supreme Court. For instance, he spoke of the full dinner pail in Detroit, where the working people have been eating at clubs for five years! That man is going to be the death of Just a Minute.

The story about the naval base the Japanese are acquiring at the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal must have been delayed in transit. It was evidently part of the propaganda for the new naval bill.

We'll believe the milk strike cannot be settled when Father Dempsey comes in and says it can't be done.

REMEMBRANCE.

DID you not hear me call to you last night
When you were reading in some radiant

I breathed your name and some enchantment came,
Nor did it leave my sorrow quite the same.

You did not come with your soft lips to cheer
As in the past, or leave a fragrance of you there.

It was a thought you gave last night to me
You had forgotten, which came cheerily,
And when my mood was darkest brought a light—

Did you not hear me call to you last night?

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HEALTH HINTS.

C. K.—For piles remedies, see Answers next Sunday, Aug. 27.

READER.—If 3 good doctors diagnosed the case as stomach trouble and a fourth pronounced it chronic Bright's disease, we are puzzled. You may want about Bright's disease at this office.

HY. B.—Iodine has helped some cases of goitre. The Handbook of Therapeutics published by the American Medical Association (4 edit., 1915, page 36), says: "Surgery is at present the most reliable therapeutic agent in the treatment of hyperthyroidism. It is, however, generally recognized that the removal of the cases of goitre are actually and permanently removed by surgery. Success is usually gained by injections of boiling water. Water is reported by Dr. John A. McKeen, president of the New York Polyclinic Medical School and Hospital and surgeon-in-chief of the institution. It is said the most stubborn case will succumb to an average of five injections in 10 weeks and that the complete cure is effected in three months. The technique employed at the Polyclinic is as follows: The skin and area to be injected are thoroughly anesthetized by the injection of a free quantity of a one-half of 1 per cent novocaine solution. A 10 cc. syringe filled with boiling water is immediately injected into the gland, the distance of the mass. To prevent scalding the skin, the continuous surfaces are shielded by a covering of towels. A gauze swab is held as a shield at the point of the needle to prevent water or steam falling from the needle. As the boiling water is forced out at three or four areas in the goitre, injections are repeated every four or five days until the tumor disappears. The pain is trivial and the only danger is of burning the skin. This is minimized by the use of the gauze and towels. If the skin covering remains intact, all tissue coagulation or destruction, being aseptic, is harmless, and the solid mass gradually disappears by granulation-morphosis.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

L. J. K.—Beetles: If you can spare one room at a time, drench it with gasoline when you have swept the walls and taken under the crevices with bonnet pins to dislodge squatters. The deadly fluid will not injure walls, carpets or furniture. Dangle them. Then shut the room up tightly for 24 hours. As you can get along without it. Open in the day-time and keep all light away from the cracks. Open the windows and air thoroughly. If you treat every hole and corner of the house in this way, except the kitchen, the insects are tolerably sure. Then be on the vigil, look for beetles for a week. Submerge bedrooms to a severe search daily for some weeks. The price of exemption is eternal watchfulness until the cure is complete. Do not be discouraged by the sight for a month or so, of a stray camp-follower. A dime's worth of corrosive sublimate is sometimes used in the gasoline.

LAW POINTS.

ANXIOUS MOTHER.—Phone Chief of Police in regard to the person who is to break your boy's neck.

C. L. W.—While you may wish your wife what you desire, at the same time, if not satisfied, she may renounce the will and take under the law, so you would be here in a legal sense, and settle that question. As to your children, you can prefer the one and exclude the other from partition. The remainder, but in doing so should clearly state your reasons, which may help to sustain the will in even contest, which no clause in will could prevent. If your intention is to leave them something worth while a clause stating that in event any of them should contest or bring an action at law to have the same set aside, such clause shall receive no part of your estate, may deter them from contesting the will, for if sustained they lose their bequests or what you have given them.

While it is not necessary to provide for the children, the statutes state they must be mentioned. Accurate will writing comes from practice and experience and as well requires a thorough knowledge of the law as for you to attempt to attempt to write one along the lines you suggest is certainly not advisable. As to your son, should you make it as suggested, she has no reason to renounce and could gain nothing thereby, but it would be better to have her sign a renunciation, the will in other respects holds good if properly written and provided it is not contested by those children you intend to disfavor, and as to your wife, should you wish to say that and can only object as to her rights and interest and no interest of the children.

It is made a depository for a certain proportion of the reserves of all the member banks, and in addition may also be a depository for the currency for the Federal Reserve Bank.

Federal Reserve notes, which it is authorized to issue, are made of paper with a minimum gold reserve of 40 per centum. J. L. Q.—Over the high altar of the Cathedral of Treves, in a golden shrine, a golden pot, which runs through it from arm to arm. It is a very old, threadbare, handwoven piece of cloth, it has shone in the assembly of the shrine, what the tunic worn by priests, and has only a small round opening for the head. In other surroundings it would hardly glance at it and it would seem to find its way to a junk shop. But the holy coat of Treves, the most famous of relics, and all sacred relics and spurs, fragments of the cross, and the robes of the martyrs could not outweigh it. It has been spun by the Mother of God and woven into a coat by Mary Magdalene on the Mount of Calvary. It is seamless, just as the Scriptures describe it to be, with the words: "The coat was woven from the top without seam throughout." In 1194 it was exhibited for the first time, so far as can be traced, at the same time it was transferred to a shrine on the high altar. Very likely it was there exhibited in the faithful of the Middle Ages in the intervals of 25 years. In 1312 it aroused the faith of the Middle Ages in a tremendous popular enthusiasm. In 1324, however, decided that it should be exhibited every seven years. Since 1870 it has been shown in need of incentives to play and faith to remind them of the life of Christ.

A Minute Movie

MERMAIDS frolicking on ice cakes with the north pole to starboard and polar bears swimming about in the Arctic Sea. Such was the scene of Iphigenia's most recent peril. She had sought in many places for that mysterious gallant who stole her young love and beat it, as the great banker's daughter remarked in her private role of Tillie, Miracle Film Company star. But the memory of dark deeds or an unpaid board bill or something haunted the stranger, and Iphigenia heard that he had joined an expedition to the frigid North (see any Arctic story for frigid). She followed him to the top of the world, as a true heroine would. And the scene opened with sundry lovely mermaids taking a beauty outing on the ice floes. The polar bears were put in for local color. Back of the ice and the mermaids and the bears could be seen the aurora borealis, its brilliant lights far flung across the northern sky.

Iphigenia arrived in no man's land alone—all alone. It was only logical that she had become separated from the rest of the party, going on with her dog team to that strange place where earth and space meet.

There was a great flutter among the mermaids. Who was this white-robed being with the fair face? Who could it be except the missing Queen of the mermaids carried off by cruel men and who was now come to reign among the ice floes? Their old grannies had told the stunts all about her, predicting that some day she would return. So they welcomed her and made merry.

"What are they wearing in Paris?" asked one. "Is it true that husbands are hard to get?" inquired another.

All gathered while Iphigenia told them the gossip, forgetting her quest. Then a raucous voice interrupted as the dowager Queen of the mermaids approached the big cake where Iphigenia and her new-found friends had gathered. She drew a long sigh, seated upon a throne of ice, to which two of the bears were hitched.

"This is not my daughter," she screamed, and made an imperious sign. The illumination faded, the mermaids tumbled into the water and Iphigenia was left in the darkness.

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One
YOU say you've never heard the story of the cold storage chicken?
"Never have."
"That's tough."

A Mollycoddle.

DID you see that?" yelled the excited man in the Panama hat. "That robber of an umpire calls Gulligan out at third and Rafferty never come within a foot of touchin' him." "It looked that way to me, too," admitted the man beside him. "Still, I daresay the umpire could see the play better from where he was than we could from up here."

"Aw, so on home!" retorted the other savagely. "You ain't got no business goin' to a ball game. You're one of these blamed pacifists, that's what you are!"

IT'S an ill wind that blows no good. Price of paper going higher is going to make bundles of mining stock worth something.

Cautious.

IVE discovered a system by which my employer could get all the work in his office done with half the force he employs now.

"Why don't you tell him about it and earn his undying gratitude?"

"I don't dare to. He might decide that I am one of the men he could do without."

The Fable of the Busy Man

ONCE upon a time there was a man too busy to eat. In the morning he swallowed a cup of coffee and smeared half a soft boiled egg on his mustache, where he could lick it off on his way downtown in the cars. At noon he allowed himself 15 minutes for luncheon, and as it takes the average waiter longer than that to walk to the kitchen and back, the 15 minutes was about all the nourishment he got. He usually got home late for dinner in the evening, because he hated to tear himself away from his place of business so long as there was the slightest possibility of making another nickel before he closed down his desk, and when he did sit down to the table he devoured the stock market reports in the evening paper instead of digging into the fodder. He couldn't see any sense in wasting his time on food while there was so much money in the world that did not belong to him.

Talking Weather.

WHY, he even talked about the weather when he proposed to me. "You don't mean it?" "Yes I do. He said if I married him life would be all sunshine.—Yonkers Statesman.

Thorough.

DID the grasshoppers do much damage to your farm last year?" "I should say they did. They devoured everything clear down to the nest mortgage."

Summer Boarder: Have you any mosquitoes here? Farmer: We had a few last year, but after they tackled the complexions some of those city gals wore, they didn't have the nerve to come back.

ONE of the blessings of a free country is that it allows those who don't get any mail to loaf around the post-office.

DID Jaeger bag anything on his hunting trip last week? "Not much. Only the hunting dog he borrowed from me."

Bones: He's a street car conductor. "How did he get the job?"

Tambo: Sioux City, of course.

"What do you need money for? You've got charge accounts at three different stores."

"For goodness sake! Don't you know yet that you can never find what you want at the store where you have a charge account?"
